but if you can’t actually present even an example or two, or provide any concrete information as to what you’re arguing for, I don’t find your assertions persuasive.

I have to gravitate toward Jane’s comments however.

Am sorry if this has been asked before but when you are pulling, what happens to the saliva that builds vortexed and caseive yeast all all scentsomewhat